Start On Terms In Prison

Seven 'Commies' To Confinement; Bench Warrants For Four Others

NEW YORK, July 2—(AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan today ordered seven top Communists to begin serving prison terms and issued bench warrants for four to surrender.

Ten of the 11 had been sentenced to five years imprisonment for teaching the violent overthrow of the United States government. One had received a three year term.

Those ordered arrested were Henry Winston, 35, organizational secretary of the party; Gus Hall, 39, Ohio state chairman; Robert Thompson, New York state chairman; and Gilbert Green, 43, Illinois chairman.

All had been at liberty under bail of $20,000 each, furnished by the Civil Rights Congress, which the U. S. attorney general's office has branded as subversive.

War Record Helps
Thompson had received the lesser sentence of three years because of his war record.

Judge Ryan ruled that bail of the four will be forfeited if they do not appear in court by 9:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

The court issued the commitment order after denying all motions by the defense to reduce, modify or postpone the sentences, which had been upheld by the United States supreme court. Harry Sacher of defense counsel had asked that the sentences be reduced or suspended. He also asked for a stay of execution for 30 days.

The seven ordered to jail were Eugene Dennis, 44, general secretary of the party; John B. Williams, 46, labor secretary; Jacob Stachel, 49, educational director, and Irving Potash, 46, national committeeman, all of whom had been out in $30,000 bail each; John Gates, 36, editor of the Daily Worker; Carl Winter, 43, Michigan state chairman, and Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., 46, former New York city councilman, who had been free in $20,000 bail each.

Has Heart Ailment
Judge Ryan refused to suspend or modify the sentence of Stachel, whose attorney, Abraham J. Isserman, pleaded that Stachel was suffering from a heart ailment and incarceration would be cruel and unusual punishment.

The court ordered the warden of the institution to which Stachel is sent must file within 30 days "a detailed medical report" and "the probable effect incarceration might have."

On receipt of such a report, the court said "it will receive consideration by the court as to whether any reduction of sentence should be made to Stachel."

Dennis, who acted as his own attorney during the nine-month trial, asked for outright suspension of sentence on all 11, stating that "when these defendants are imprisoned the first amendment will be incarcerated as well."

U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol told the court the defendants "speak democracy and civil rights and freedoms and of the protection afforded by the constitution of the United States, but their conception of all these things is a conception for their own advantage."

Saypol also told the court that the health records indicated that Stachel was much improved when he was discharged from a hospital which he entered for a heart condition last year. He also said that one medical authority, whom he did not name, maintains that "confinement in a penal institution is an effective therapy" for a heart condition.

Seizure Made Of Marijuana

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP)—Seizure of $500,000 worth of illicit marijuana in the secret compartments of an automobile was reported today by police. It was reputedly the biggest single haul ever made in this country.

The automobile was seized after police found reports that New York City hoodlums would try to snatch the automobile.

The find climaxed a city-wide hunt touched off after police were tipped that a cache of marijuana had been smuggled in from Mexico two weeks ago. The discovery brought to more than 200 pounds the amount of marijuana recovered following the arrest here of three persons June 20.

It was found behind secret panels in the automobile driven by John Raymond Weatherbee, 28, of New York City. One of the three now held on charges of violating the marijuana tax act. At the time of the trio's arrest, police reported they confiscated eight pounds of marijuana that had been transferred to another car.

Police and treasury agents said they learned of the existence of the bigger cache in Weatherbee's car, but withheld announcement until they were able to report they were able to arrest hoodlums reported to highjack the automobile.

Estimate Holiday Traffic Toll 130

CHICAGO, July 2—(AP)—The National Safety Council today estimated 130 persons will die in traffic accidents during the one-day Independence Day holiday.

However, Ned H. Dearborn, council President, said that with "patient and courteous driving" it may be possible to hold the total to 100 or fewer.

The council's estimate covers the period from 6 p. m. local time Tuesday to midnight Wednesday and does not include deaths which may occur later from Fourth of July injuries.

Dearborn estimated that 40,000,000 autos will be on the highways during the holiday.

Donate to Lower C. of C. Building Debt

Upstairs is Being Fitted up For Loan Company

Several local business men and civic minded citizens have been donating sums of money to the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of reducing the building debt, some of them asking that their gifts be listed as anonymous.

Chester A. Brown, local executive manager appreciates the interest and pride the Sedalia people are taking in the new office building. Callers at the Chamber of Commerce office of both local and out-of-town people for information and various services has increased greatly since the office has been moved to its new building and many Sedalians who never bothered to go to the old building drop in the new office when going by.

Mr. Brown is pleased that people are using the Chamber of Commerce office more. It is a service organization and he is anxious that Sedalians take advantage of the many services it offers.

The upstairs of the building is almost completed. It will be occupied after July 15 by the Public Loan corporation, which is opening a new office here.

Partitions have been taken out and the entire upstairs has been made into one large room. The loan company will partition the room to suit its own convenience. The front part of the room has been painted a light empire green while the back part is a delicate cocoa brown shade. The floor covering is rubber tile in brown and beige. Fluorescent lighting will be installed across the entire room.

The stairway has also been remodeled, with a landing about half way up and will also be a light empire green.

Iran Would Give Oil Holiday

TEHRAN, Iran, July 2—(AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh told U. S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady, Iran would give the giant Abadan refinery a "holiday" unless the Anglo-Iranian oil company agreed to pay for any oil loaded on the company's tankers.

Grady told newsmen Mossadegh today expressed a great desire to end the British-Iranian deadlock over nationalization of the oil industry but that he was "equally adamant against agreeing to anything that would prevent carrying out the nationalization program."

Production at Abadan meanwhile was flowing into limited storage facilities at a greatly reduced rate, but company officials said the present output—8,300,000 gallons daily—would fill the tanks in about 20 days, after which the refinery would have to be shut down.

This Britain has said, would be followed by withdrawal of the company's skilled British managerial and technical workers.

Grady had called on Mossadegh seeking a compromise which would permit the British tankers to load at Abadan. The Anglo-Iranian company has ordered its tanker captains to refuse to sign receipts demanded by the government and saying they owe the new Iranian national oil company for the cargoes.

America Back to the Spirit of 1776 With Freedom Torch

By Lee Linder

PHILADELPHIA, July 2—(AP)—America returned to the Spirit of 1776 today with a re-declaration of independence and a re-dedication of freedom.

A flaming freedom torch symbolizes the occasion. A nationwide, four-day jubilee of the 176th anniversary of the signing of the declaration of independence began yesterday in this historic city, centered around Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell.

Thousands visited the hall, touched the bell. Other thousands heard Tom C. Clark, associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, proclaim the declaration has been and still is "an act of leadership for oppressed peoples everywhere."

Clark, who spoke in Independence Square, was the chief speaker at a "hallowed earth" ceremony. Soil brought from the Revolutionary war shrines of the original 13 states was placed in a large bowl. A Korean war veteran, Pfc. Fran-

Highways in This Vicinity Are Now Open

Flood Waters Still Over Vast Acreage of Lands

The flooded waters in this vicinity have receded enough that all the highways close to Sedalia are open and passable.

At the Lamine river this morning the river was measured at 6.57 feet and has returned to the banks of the river bed leaving the crops on the bottom lands for miles around completely destroyed. The normal stage of the Lamine is 2 feet at Clifton City but though the river is still high it is causing no damage or blocking of highways.

Highway 50 is clear both to the east and west. On the west part of the highway past Warfensburg some construction is being carried on but the highway was not blocked. The wash out of the base of the highway at Otterville was repaired Sunday and traffic has been passing over that portion of highway 50 the past two days.

Highway 63 at Jefferson City, however is still closed and it was not known when it will be open for traffic. The highways at Waverly and Carrollton are also closed and are expected to be passable soon.

Highway 40 is now open and though rough in some place it is passable. At Jefferson City highway 54 is now open though it is covered by about one foot of water in places.

Unless further rains should bring the rivers back up, the highways over this portion of the state should remain open for traffic and return to normal conditions.

Families Evacuate

ST. CHARLES, Mo., July 2—(AP)—The rain-swollen Missouri river reached the second highest peak in its recorded history here today, its flood waters covering some 10,000 acres of rich bottomland and forcing several hundred families to evacuate.

'Gee, It's Swell,' Say Boys of Fireworks

SAN LEANDRO, Calif., July 2—(AP)—Ed Miller, fireworks dealer, liked a display called White Snow Flakes so well he offered to demonstrate for some small boys.

The worked spectacularly, setting off Miller's candles, rockets, sparklers and some other stock.

"Gee, was it ever swell!" the boys endorsed Miller's display.

The spectacle cost the dealer an estimated $1,000.

No Democrat July 4

Wednesday, July 4, will be observed by the Democrat as a holiday and no paper will appear that afternoon as both the business office and news departments will be closed. No Capital will be issued Thursday morning as the staffs on that paper will also take the Independence Day holiday.

Exchange of Message on Cease-Fire

Early Reply Being Shaped as to a Possible Meeting

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP)—The U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway exchanged messages today on the Communist proposal for Korean armistice talks at Kaesong after July 10. An early reply to the Communists presumably was taking shape.

At the same time, Secretary of Defense Marshall advised Congress there would be no rush to bring U. S. troops home from the far Pacific in the event a Korean armistice is negotiated.

Marshall made the statement in urging the House Foreign Affairs committee to act quickly on the administration's request for $8,500,000,000 for foreign military and economic aid.

Responsible officials, who said a series of messages had passed between Ridgway and the Joint Chiefs, gave no hint of what was said in them.

The fact of the consultations pointed, however, to a possible reply within hours to the Communists. A likely time might be the early evening hours of tonight, Washington time. Because of the time difference, tonight in Washington is Tuesday morning in Tokyo.

No objections have been voiced to Kaesong—one of the few places the Communists now hold south of the 38th parallel—as a meeting place.

Top officials have made plain they would like to have an earlier date. There was no sign however whether Ridgway has been advised to propose this.

The United Nations commander has full authority for dealing with the Communist proposal but has been keeping in close touch all along with the capital.

In addition to the military consultation, there was continued diplomatic activity.

Secretary of State Acheson went over the Korean developments with his top advisors at a staff meeting during the morning. Later, he went to the White House for a review of foreign issues with President Truman. The president has been kept in close touch with all developments and regularly meets with Acheson on Mondays.

Kills Two And Wounds Five

BRANCHVILLE, S. C., July 2—(AP)—A 22-year-old Negro killed two men and wounded five other persons with shotgun blasts fired in a rage when a cafe juke box failed to play the record he had selected.

Sheriff George L. Reed said Carol Gantt was held in connection with the shooting.

Reed said the blasts killed Police Chief J. W. Etheridge and a Negro bystander, Robert Barnes. Among the five Negroes who were wounded was a five-year-old boy.

The shooting occurred in a Negro cafe in this small community about 17 miles south of Orangeburg in central South Carolina.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP)—The government's income topped its spending by $3,509,782,624.25 for the 12 months ending with June 30.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder announced late today this budget surplus for the fiscal year 1951.

It was the second biggest surplus in the nation's history, and was in marked contrast to a deficit of over $3,122,000,000 in fiscal 1950.

Oatis Tells of 'Being Agent' In Espionage

To Trial on a Charge of Being Spy Ring Head

By Dan De Luce

FRANKFURT, Germany, July 2—(AP)—William N. Oatis, Associated Press Chief of Bureau in Prague, went on trial before a Communist Czechoslovakia court today and testified that he had been an "espionage agent."

Reporting this, American officials who are attending the trial said Oatis looked pale and strained. They said he spoke in careful phrases which indicated he had memorized his testimony. He has been jailed since his arrest April 23 without being permitted to see any persons except his Communist jailers.

His trial brought to mind for westerners the experience of American businessman Robert A. Vogeler, tried by Communist Hungary. Vogeler, released after 17 months, repudiated his "confession" of spying when he returned to the United States. He told of torture and degradation preceding his trial by the Hungarians; such ordeals as being denied sleep, being questioned 78 hours at a stretch, being plunged naked into ice water, and being slugged and pined with strong stimulants.

Covers Wide Range

In Communist countries the charge of spying covers a vast amount of territory, making a crime of activities which in western nations would be considered routine activity for a newspaperman. Czechoslovakia's law for the defense of the republic, passed in November, 1948 and now embodied in the new 1950 penal code, makes it unlawful for instance, for newspaper correspondents to make public "information regarding any enterprise, institution, installation or measure that is important for the defense of the republic or its allies." Even the reporting of crimes against the defense of the republic would be illegal under this law, unless such information had been released officially.

The official Czechoslovak news agency, reporting on Oatis' trial, said the AP reporter is accused of heading a spy center directed by the Associated Press. The Associated Press says this charge is "so preposterous it will deceive no one in the free world."

Two Held In Connection With Robbery

JOPLIN, Mo., July 2—(AP)—Two men are being held here in connection with the holdup of a Joplin Bottling company.

They are James Strihman, 27, who was released from Alcatraz federal prison in April and from Olathe, Kas., jail, last week; and Albert Green, 35, who was also released from the Olathe jail last Wednesday.

The firm was robbed of $250 Friday night. Strihman and Green were arrested when the car they used in the holdup crashed in northwest Joplin. The money was found in the car.

Abiding Faith in America's Papers Held by Dr. F. L. Mott

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 2—(AP)—Dr. Frank Luther Mott, retiring Dean of the Missouri School of Journalism, expressed faith and confidence today in America's newspapers.

The 65-year-old professor, who has taught many of the nation's active newspapermen, expressed no concern over the trend toward single ownership of newspapers in American cities.

"It is a part of the natural economic change taking place all over the world," Dr. Mott said in an interview. "It makes stronger papers which can be an advantage to the paper and its advertisers as well as, perhaps, to its readers."

Basic problems of newspapers have remained much the same through the years of development he has watched, Dr. Mott said. A key problem is the balance between the type of news that attracts and that which is socially significant.

"We all know that the newspaper editor must use a certain

Dewey Hopes For Cease-Fire

On Start of Trip To Carry Him to Asiatic Countries

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2—(AP)—Governor Dewey of New York, titular head of the Republican party, was "very hopeful" about the Korean situation as he prepared to leave today on a six-week, 25,000-mile tour of Asiatic countries—including the warfront.

Arriving at 8:25 p. m. (10:25 p. m. EST) for an overnight rest before his scheduled takeoff across the Pacific at noon (2 p. m. EST), Dewey commented on the Chinese-North Korean Reds' response to the U. N. cease fire proposal:

"I've got all my fingers crossed. I am very hopeful."

Dewey and party plan to visit Korea, Japan, Formosa, the Philippines, Indo-China, Indonesia, Malaya, Australia and New Zealand.

"I am going to the Pacific area," he said, "because of the tremendous work we have over the next few years on the security of the free world. There are new nations in the Pacific—some of them of enormous size—and their future course may have immense influence on our own freedom."

He said he believed the cold war would continue "for the rest of our lives or as long as Communism rules Russia."

Dewey, unsuccessful candidate for president in 1944 and 1948, reiterated that his trip was "entirely unpolitical." When he returns he told a plane news conference here, he expects to discuss his findings with the nation.

"Anything I have to say, expect to say publicly as I have for

Claim Victory as The World Awaits Announcement of An Armistice

TOKYO, July 2—(AP)—At a late hour tonight there was still no announced American answer to the Communist acceptance of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's offer to talk peace.

At 10:15 p. m. (6:15 a. m. EST) the general was at his home in the U. S. embassy.

Was there any news?

"I'm sitting here by my radio, listening for some," an aide said with a chuckle.

Lt. Col. G. P. Welch, Ridgway's public information officer, worked late. But he left his office at 10 p. m.

U. S. Ambassador William J. Sebald visited Ridgway. He declined to comment on the meeting and said he had received no news from Washington on an American answer.

By Olen Clements

TOKYO, July 2—(AP)—Red Korea tonight urged its soldiers to fight on while the world waited for news of an expected armistice.

Pyeongyang radio repeated Chinese and North Korean acceptance of a United Nations proposal for cease-fire talks.

But the Reds made this clear: they are claiming victory in the year-old conflict.

The North Korean Communist with this statement:

"The Anglo-American aggressors have at last realized failure for their sinister attempt and that is why they are seeking peace."

Between news items the Communist announcers inserted these statements:

"Soldiers on the front, fight bravely and continue annihilation of aggressors," and "anti-aircraft batteries, aim sharp and increase the bag of enemy intruders."

Japanese radio monitors, who heard the Red broadcasts said the Communist tone was even stronger than usual.

Peiping radio repeated the text of the Communist acceptance statement last night.

Willing To Meet

The Reds first announced over the two stations Sunday night that they are willing to meet U. N. representatives and discuss a cease-fire. They want the meeting held in the Kaesong area between July 10 and 15.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander, had proposed Saturday that a meeting be held aboard the Danish hospital ship Jutlandia in Wonsan harbor. He said he would propose a date, if the Reds agreed to the meeting.

Ridgway has not indicated his reaction to the Red acceptance message.

It is presumed, however, that the U. N. will agree to the Reds' proposed place and time.

Diplomatic circles in Washington said Ridgway already has his full instructions and authority to deal with the Communists.

The world talked of peace, but it was "business as usual" on the fighting lines.

Footsore Flier Anxious to Stay Grounded

By Sam Summerlin

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, July 2—(P)—What can you do with an Air Force man who suddenly lands in the infantry by mistake—and wants to keep his feet in a foxhole?

This question is being pondered today by home high level brains in the Army and Air Force.

It was posed by a red-haired Irish corporal who must remain anonymous until his case is decided. Meantime he is staying with a frontline unit—delighted with his new role as a rifle wielder.

A short, stocky fellow with freckles, he smiled as he related the strange circumstances.

"I was stationed with an air unit in southern Korea," said the flying Irishman who has served almost two years with the Air Force "one day I went on pass—and wandered away from my party."

South Korean police noted his green fatigues, assumed he was an army replacement, and plunked him on a train headed toward the fighting front.

"I got to a replacement company but I didn't say anything to anybody," he continued. "I hopped on the first truck that left, hunting for a way back to Taegu."

He was carried swiftly north with replacements. It wasn't long before he started hearing shells whizzing around—he had reached the battleline.

"I told them at the (frontline) company about the mistake. By that time I was really worried about what the Air Force would do," he sighed.

The company immediately informed the Air Force. At his request, however, he was allowed to become an infantryman until his status could be settled.

Rubbing his feet, the Irishman laughed "the company gave me all the equipment I needed but nobody told me about all that walking."

He quickly became an all-out doughboy. He even sewed the big colorful patch of his division on his shirt.

"I wore it that way until they told me it was too good a target for snipers," he said.

In one week with the infantry, he has been on several patrols and dodged enemy artillery fire. "That artillery sure scared me," he stammered. "It sounds just like jets coming over."

"But the infantry is full of swell guys. I am hoping to stay with them, at least until I can reach my goal—a combat infantrymen's badge."

Odessan Wins Jalopy Races

David Ferguson, Odessa, wheeled his 1935 Ford Coupe to victory Sunday afternoon in the third running of the Syracuse American Legion jalopy races on the figure 8 track, one mile east of Syracuse.

Bill Haiman, Tipton, led the pack from the fifth to 12th lap and then engaged in a dogfight with Ferguson the remainder of the distance Haiman's 1940 Plymouth couldn't keep pace with Ferguson on the curves and lost by a half lap.

The attendance fell off the 2,000 average to 1,500 fans Sunday.

A record number of 27 cars entered the races. Many knokked-out and only a handful finished the speed battle.

Bob Gann, Higginsville, winner of the second races, finished a third despite an early accident. Fourth money went to Herby Thomason, Holden.

Jim Davis, Odessa, won the consolation race and was followed by Lloyd Arnel, Boonville and Dean Marr, Jefferson City.

The nine drivers entered from Sedalia finished out of the money. Don Cooper, driving a 1937 Ford for the Robinson Body Shop, took a four lap lead in the feature race, but cracked-up with another racer and didn't finish. Another Sedalia driver, Henry Powell, driving for former winner, Phillip Ward, went out of the races on the first lap after a smash-up.

No one received serious injuries, despite the many accidents.

Teen'Age Blues Defeat Marshall

The Teen-age Blues defeated the Marshall Blues Sunday afternoon at Housel Park by a score of 4-0. Jack Barnes was behind the plate for the Blues and allowed five hits, walked three and fanned 11.

The Blues scored two in the third on an error on Higgins' grounder and a walk to Watson. The catcher overthrew third base and both runs scored. The Blues scored one run in the fourth on successive singles by Hickman and Barnes and the last run on a safe bunt single by Watson and three walks that forced Watson across the plate.

Jackson went all the way for Marshall and Eldon Lees and Martin completed the batteries for the two teams.

Thursday night the Blues play the Boonville American Legion at Boonville and Sunday at Housel Park they play the California Cyclones and fast playing colored team.

Scores by innings were:
Marshall: 000 000 000-0-5-3
Blues: 002 110 000-4-7-2

Yankees Put White Sox Out Of First Place

Cardinals Trim Pirates 5-4 in Dozen Innings

By Joe Reichler Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Feller, king of active major league pitchers, sits on a pedestal today as the only modern day hurler with three no-hit games to his credit.

The 32-year-old Cleveland right-hander, making a great comeback after two mediocre seasons, held Detroit without a hit yesterday as he pitched the Indians to a 2-1 victory in the first game of a doubleheader. The Tigers were limited to only four hits all day as rookie Bob Chakales shut them out, 2-0, in the nightcap.

Bob's no-hit masterpiece overshadowed the Chicago White Sox fall out of the American league lead and Bobby Doerr's feat of making his 2,000th hit as a Boston Red Soxer.

Compared to Feller's achievement, Ed Lopat's six-hitter wasn't much, but it was good enough to give New York a 5-2 triumph over Boston and move the Yankees into first place, four percentage points above the White Sox. Bobby Doerr got his 2,000th hit as a Red Soxer.

Ned Garver's two-hit twirling gave the St. Louis Browns a 3-1 nightcap victory after Chicago had won an 11-inning opener, 2-1, on Minny Mino's homer. It dropped the White Sox out of first place for the first time since May 28.

Russ Meyer held Brooklyn to one hit but the Dodgers beat his Philadelphia Phils, 2-0.

Paul Minner handcuffed Cincinnati with two singles in the opener as the Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from the Reds, 7-0 and 7-5. Larry Jansen scattered seven hits in pitching the New York Giants to a 4-1 win over Boston's Braves.

In the only games where pitching did not shine, the Philadelphia Athletics downed the Washington Senators twice, 10-7 and 3-2 and the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4 in 12 innings. Elmer Valo hit three homers for the A's.

White Sox Get Six on All-Stars

CHICAGO, July 2—(AP)—The White Sox, who have had a difficult time getting into the All-Star act for the last 17 years, take top billing this time by landing six players on the 25-man American League squad named for the big game in Detroit July 10.

The only rookies in the group belong to Frisky Comiskey. They are outfielders Jim Busby and Minnie Mino, both speed demons who figure to give the National League the jitters, and the fans a thrill. Mino is currently the American League's leading batter with .355, and Busby (.316) is top in base thievery with 11.

The National League squad, managed by Eddie Sawyer of the Philadelphia Phillies, will be announced tomorrow.

Other players who will be piloted by Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees are infielders Chico Carrasquel (.281), Nellie Fox (.336) and Eddie Robinson (.307) and Pitcher Randy Gumpert.

The starting lineup with the exception of pitchers, was chosen in a nation-wide vote of 4,274,978 fans which ended last week.

Other starters will be Ferris Fain of Philadelphia (.352) at first base; George Kell, Detroit (.310) at third; Vic Wertz, Detroit (.295) in right field; Dom DiMaggio, Boston (.330) center field; Ted Williams, Boston (.335), left field; and Yogi Berra, New York (.301) catcher.

Stengel's choices for pitcher were Ned Garver, St. Louis with a 10-4 record; Gumpert (7-1); Fred Hutchinson, Detroit (6-3); Bob Lemon, Cleveland (8-6); Ed Lopat, Yankees (11-3); Conrad Marrero, Washington (7-4); Mel Parnell, Boston (9-5); Bob Shantz, Philadelphia (7-4). All are right-handers except Lopat, Parnell, and Shantz.

Other Stengel picks as the American League try to avenge last year's 4-3 defeat in 14 innings at Comiskey Park and registered 13 victories against five losses in the series are:

Infielders Bobby Doerr (.294) and Vern Stephens (.325) of Boston; Phil Rizzuto (.290) New York; Outfielders Joe DiMaggio (.281)

Whizzed 'em By; No-Hitter

Bob Feller Shares Credit With Some Fast Fielding

By Bud Sprunger

CLEVELAND, July 2—(AP)—The way to pitch three no-hit games, says Bob Feller, is to "try to hold a one-run lead."

Feller ought to know. He is the only man to run that trick within the 20th century. And all three of his games have been won by one-run margins.

The last man to win the three hitless was Cy Young. His third no-hitter was in 1903, but his first was before the turn of the century.

"I knew I was working on a no-hitter most of the game," Feller recalled after yesterday's 2-1 win over Detroit, "but I was so busy trying to protect that lead I didn't have much time to worry about it. I just concentrated on each batter as he came along."

"I had a big lead, I probably would have worried about a no-hitter and missed it," he added.

Helping him, he admitted, were good control, a lot of sliders, and a "fast ball that was nothing to brag about."

Some fine fielding by third baseman Al Rosen shortstop Ray Boone and second baseman Bob Avila came in mighty handy, too, he said.

Feller's main disappointment was that his wife, Virginia, did not see him win.

"She never sees me do a darn thing," he added, explaining he was watching it while his family vacationed at a Wisconsin lake.

"They probably didn't hear the game on the radio," he continued. "I'll have to telephone them about it."

His oldest boy, now six, is taking an interest in the game. Feller still thinks the 1-0 no-hitter he took from the New York Yankees, on April 30, 1946, was the most thrilling. That was his second. The first was a 1-0 shut-out over Chicago, April 16, 1940.

Still given to fretting that he is growing old and about washed up, Feller at 32 years remarked that "I might as well go out with a bang." He seemed pretty unimpressed with his 11-2 record this year.

Except for Feller and Young, only Larry Corcoran of the Chicago Nationals has won three no-hit games.

Really Blue For Chi-Sox

By Charles Chamberlain
CHICAGO, July 2—(AP)—Has the gilded coach turned into a pumpkin? Has the White Sox Cinderella story ended?

It's certainly blue Monday in the Comiskey camp.

For the first time since May 28, when they were rolling along in fairy-tale fashion on a 14-game winning spree, the White Sox are out of the American League lead today.

Dividing a doubleheader yesterday with the St. Louis Browns—a team that had lost 15 out of 16 to the Sox, including nine straight spring exhibitions—did it.

Minnie Mino's 11th inning homer, a 400 foot clout into the left center grandstands salvaged a 2-1 victory in the opener. But the Browns took the nightcap 3-1 behind the two-hit chore of Ned Carver, who had been sidelined since June 16th with a pulled muscle.

This left the Comiskey with a league percentage of .538 while the New York Yankees, who defeated the Boston Red Sox 5-2 in a single Sunday game, nudged to the roost with .642.

"It's not our pitching, it's our hitting," moaned Frank Lane, the New York, and Larry Doby (.310) Cleveland; catcher Jim Hegan (.265) Cleveland.

Two Won by Junior Legion

Defeats Waverly In Doubleheader There Sunday

The Post 16 Junior Legion came out on top to win a doubleheader over the Waverly Legion team in games played at Waverly Sunday afternoon. In the first game Jim Fall was selected for the mound duty by Coach George Ray. Fall allowed the Waverly team six hits to pace the Sedalia team to a 7 to 5 victory. Billy Dey was the leading hitter for the Sedalia team in the first game.

Mines did the receiving. C. Eager and E. Eager was the battery for Waverly.

In a very close game the Sedalia team finally came out on top by the score of 1 to 0. "Skip" Schulz was on the mound for Sedalia and allowed only 2 hits. Mathis the Waverly pitcher also allowed only two hits but was wild at times allowing five bases on balls. Lane, the Post 16 shortstop, connected for the two Sedalia hits. Mines and Pittle did the receiving. Mathis and E. Eager formed the Waverly battery.

To Penalize On Misconduct

Some Changes In Employment Security Law

Effective July 1 a Missouri worker who becomes unemployed because of misconduct in connection with his work will have to serve a "time" waiting penalty period before he can receive unemployment insurance.

That warning came from Leon M. Hall, manager of the Sedalia area office of the Missouri Division of Employment Security.

Under the old unemployment compensation law a worker discharged for misconduct on the job could qualify for benefits after he had earned wages amounting to 10 times his weekly benefits. In times of high level employment, such as exists today, a worker could overcome that bar to benefits with very little effort, Hall pointed out.

Under the new Missouri Employment Security law the "misconduct" penalty has been changed from one of "earnings" to one of "time."

Could Disqualify
Hall said beginning Monday, July 2, the employment security agency would disqualify a worker for a period of one to eight weeks if it is established his unemployment is due to a discharge for misconduct in connection with his work.

Deputies in local offices receiving workers' claims will fix the length of the disqualification in accordance with the seriousness of the misconduct.

Furthermore, a worker disqualified for "misconduct" will have to report at regular stipulated times at the state employment office during the period for which he is penalized. He also must show satisfactorily that he personally is seeking work and satisfy other requirements for eligibility for benefits during the penalty period in order to remove the disqualification.

The new law also restricts a worker's rights in cases where he is found to have quit his job without good cause attributable to his employment, or if he is found to have refused to accept suitable work without good cause.

In either event such a worker will be disqualified from receiving unemployment benefits until he again can show that he has earned wages amounting to 10 times his weekly benefits.

However, where a worker quits his job voluntarily to accept employment elsewhere at a higher rate of pay, and it is shown that he actually worked and earned wages on the new job, he cannot be disqualified from receiving benefits should he later become unemployed through no fault of his own.

Road Closed

Missouri's capitol forms a background for a "pond full" of motor cars behind the ironic sign, "Road Closed" as U. S. highway 50 disappears into the overflowing Missouri river water at Jefferson City. Out of the picture to the right is a filling station where the old cars were parked before the flood struck. (Associated Press photo)

Barman of route 3 Sedalia, who enlisted in the Air Force troops in late December and completed his basic training at Fort Leonard Wood on April 28th and then went to Camp Campbell, Ky., where he recently finished his jumping course and has been awarded his wings as a qualified paratrooper of Company C, 121 Airborne Engineers. He was graduated from Smith-Cotton high school in 1948.

Pvt. Barman was in Sedalia for four hours Sunday and visited with his grandparents, en route to Ft. Bragg, N. C., where he will be stationed.

Five Die in an Airplane Crash

FORT DIX, N. J., July 2—(P)—Five servicemen were killed yesterday in the crash of an Air Force C47 plane, dashed to the ground by fog-shrouded pine trees as it groped for a landing.

The rest of the 21 homeward-bound passengers were injured, four seriously. Most were Air Force personnel on leave from Kirtland Air Force base at Albuquerque, N. M.

The early-morning crack-up occurred while the big transport was making a ground control approach one-quarter of a mile from its destination, fog-shrouded Maguire Air Force base here. It plunged into a gully, its wings sheared off and its fuselage torn open by pine trees.

All of the dead were military personnel from Kirtland. A WAF corporal, lone woman aboard, survived.

One of those to escape with minor injuries was Navy Lt. Reaves H. Baysinger, known as "The Iceman" when he starred at quarterback on Navy's football team in 1946-1948.

Big Increase in Civil Service Force

WASHINGTON, July 2—(P)—The Civil Service Commission reported today that federal employment is increasing faster outside Washington than in it. The commission said in the first three months of the year the increase in the Washington metropolitan area was seven per cent while that outside the capital was nine per cent.

California held its lead over the other states with about 238,000 federal employees compared with 243,600 in the Washington area. Other states: New York, 182,600; Pennsylvania, 139,400; Texas, 108,600; and Illinois, 103,600.

E. E. Hefner, Mrs. F. O. Rimel presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Smethers gave the devotional and Mrs. Rimel and Mrs. Hefner read two news letters. Members discussed the picnic to be held at 7:30 p. m. July 4 at the schoolhouse.

The next meeting will be on July 26 at the home of Mrs. Belvan Howey.

Officials Fear Gas Rationing If the Iranian Oil is Cut Off

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, July 2—U. S. officials have made some alarming statements about the Iranian oil crisis. But the real fact is that privately they are even more alarmed than they indicate in their public statements. There are three reasons for this worry:

1. If Iranian oil is cut off, it will mean gasoline rationing in the United States. For Iranian oil now supplies England, France, western Europe, is vital for the North Atlantic Pact rearmament. If this supply stops, the USA will have to take up part of the slack and we are already importing oil at the rate of one million barrels a day.

2. What Moscow wants most is revolution and unrest in Iran, thereby giving the Communists an opportunity to take over. With British oil royalties cut off, this is more likely to happen.

3. Trouble in oil countries is contagious. The Iranian shutout of the British could result in an Iraqi shutout, then one in Arabia. Already trouble is brewing in these areas. The great oil country of Venezuela could get the nationalization urge, too.

Inside fact about the Iranian dispute is that the entire department was warned of the situation months ago and in turn warned the British. Justice William O. Douglas, who during two summers rode all over Iran on horseback, reported to the White House that a disastrous storm was brewing.

ties ahead of national interest is hidden in a House report not yet off the press. A lone paragraph buried in the report, sharply criticizes the location of the Marine Corps depot at inland Albany, Georgia.

This is aimed at Georgia's Congressman Carl Vinson, who not only brought the depot to Georgia but has used his influence as chairman of the House armed services committee to put other military installations in Georgia. In fact, Vinson has now gone so far as to slip an amendment into the new defense production bill, compelling the armed services to consult with him "prior to the acquisition of any real property."

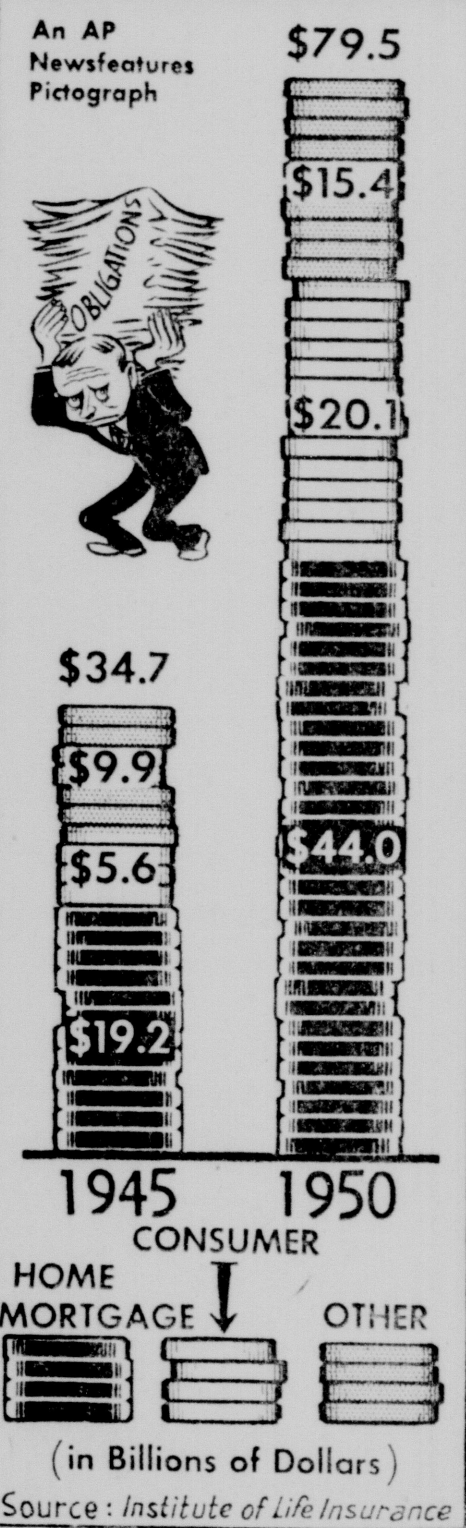

Vinson has already pushed this amendment through the House. If he can also ram it down the Senate's throat, the wily Georgian will actually be backed by law in pushing for bigger and better military bases in Georgia.

However, a House subcommittee, headed by Congressman Herbert Bonner of North Carolina, doesn't approve of Vinson's bringing the Marine Corps depot all the way inland to Albany, Georgia.

Bonner's State has two Marine Corps bases at Cherry Point, N. C., and Camp Lejeune, N. C., on the Atlantic seaboard. Therefore, Bonner's report, so far unpublished, has this to say about Vinson's pet project:

"The subcommittee learned about the proposed construction of a Marine Corps depot at Albany, Georgia. This installation would be many miles from the center of Marine training and administrative control. The subcommittee understands that this project was not favored by the department of defense nor the bureau of the budget. No extensive hearings by the appropriations committee of the House or Senate were held on the necessity for its construction," the report sternly declares.

"Projects of this nature militate against the principle of supply integration, perpetuate the rivalries among the three departments, and are to be especially deplored in a period of emergency when the taxpayers' dollars could be more usefully employed for our common defense," the report criticizes.

Note—The report illustrates the manner in which sectional politics are being placed ahead of national welfare not only in the location of military bases but in the voting of cattle congressmen against big city congressmen on price controls.

Merry-Go-Round

Secretary of Defense Marshall brought a collection of GI signs back with him from Korea. One read "Drive carefully. You might kill your replacement." The day after the 70-year-old Marshall's return, he had lunch with his staff and looked as chipper as if he had not just spent 36 hours on a rough plane crossing the Pacific. In contrast, Maj. Gen. Anthony McAuliffe, the famed paratrooper who replied "Nuts" to the German surrender demand at Bastogne during the Battle of the Bulge, was looking pea-green with fatigue. He had flown the Pacific with Marshall. . . . General Omar Bradley did not see his old rival, Field Marshal Montgomery on his recent trip to Europe. Bradley was available, but Monty didn't show up. Perhaps he had read Bradley's new book, one of the most human documents to come out of the war, but which takes some good cracks at Montgomery. . . .

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Is this your farm?

Most of the readers of the Democrat-Capital have been following this series of the weekly Mystery Farm pictures with considerable interest.

The pictures that appear in this space in Monday's Democrat and Tuesday morning's Capital were taken sometime ago by an aerial photographer. The pictures were not shot with the knowledge of whose farm it was. It was a random job; a picture here and a picture there.

Connecticut's courageous Senator Bill Benton has a whip-cracking defense of Secretary of State Acheson all written and ready to be delivered on the Senate floor. It was timed to counteract a GOP broadside at Acheson, expected after his testimony on the MacArthur controversy. But Acheson defended himself so skillfully and left the Republicans so little to criticize, that they backed off. As a result, Benton never delivered his speech but filed it away for possible future use.

Rugged Oldster

GRANBY, Mass.—(T)—Marshall E. Olds is rugged. He celebrated arriving at the age of 80 by plowing ten acres of land in two weeks and splitting up a century-old maple tree nearly four feet in diameter. He's lived in the same house 60 years.

Once to Die

By Addie McElfresh

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Upon learning that Carl Metzker was a Communist courier, I fled for my life, taking the name of Caroline Leigh, whom Carl had killed. I considered Carl Jonathan, her dead husband's lawyer, and he turned over a suitcase full of property which was to be my refuge. But Carl followed me and caught me when I tried to flee again. Now he has taken me back to the Leigh property—and I come face to face with Caroline, who was not dead, but in Carl's accomplice.

CAROLINE LEIGH'S laugh began low in her throat and rose to bubble almost merrily past her generous lips, her old laugh, care-free as always.

"Surprise, surprise," she said, her voice tart, wry.

I whirled on Carl. "Who—who was that other girl—the one you killed and said was Caroline?" I cried.

Carl Metzker's answer was to shove me on into the kitchen, past Caroline, who stepped to one side. Van followed, and Caroline closed the door behind him and bolted it.

Caroline turned on her flashlight, aimed carefully at the floor. "We can have a light in the front room. Blinds hide it. Frank closed the shutters, too," she said, lighting the way through the kitchen and dining room. "You took a long time, Carl."

"Mary was slick. I told you she was, that this was where she had come, because she thought you were dead." Carl ushered me into the living room. I had fled earlier that night. "I just anticipated she would go to the depot to catch the 1 o'clock train. Sit down, Mary," he said to me.

I remained standing.

"Sit down," Carl bellowed. One big hand was on my shoulder, about to push, when the question leaped to his face. "Where's your purse?"

"My—purse?" For the first time, my hands felt empty. I had not realized I was no longer clutching the alligator bag that Caroline had given me for Christmas. Hope stirred, sparked. "I threw it away."

"You WHAT?" Van groaned, but Carl just looked at me, grimly.

Still without speaking, he took a step forward, slapped me first with the palm and then the back of his hand. I staggered back, my hands to my already bruised face.

"Find that bag!" Carl snapped at Van. "Get Frank and find it! She had it when she got out of the car."

I HAD, I remembered that, but I must have lost it when I fled. It didn't matter. They had to have my purse; it could not be found outside by someone who might question its presence there. That spelled one thing. Fire! I might have screamed if there had been strength left in me.

They would find the purse—it couldn't be far away.

Van already had lumbered off when Caroline came back with Frank, who had been lookout upstairs, and Frank followed as soon as Carl told him to turn on the car radio, get police calls. Then Carl returned his attention to me.

His full lips narrowed as he sucked them in against his teeth. "You're a sight, Mary," he said, reprovingly. "I'm sorry we had to mess up your face that way."

"And your beautiful hair!" Caroline tsk-tsked her sarcasm.

"Mary, Mary, why couldn't you have stayed the dumb little researcher?"

Carl Metzker chuckled. There was no more mirth in the sound than there had been that evening I heard him laugh at the man from Washington. In that mood he was not THE Carl Metzker of Carl Metzker, Public Relations, he was Carl Metzker, traitor, in whose eyes human life was expendable. Anybody's life but his.

"Mary's patriotic, Caroline," Carl answered Caroline Leigh's rhetorical question. "Where you

Great Loss of Soil Due to Heavy Rainfall

Terracing Past Two Years on Arnold Farm Helpful

The recent heavy rains we have been having with the soil all ready saturated with water reminds of the great loss of soil that leaves many farms, says Roy I. Coplen, county Extension Agent.

The farm of C. S. Arnold was visited last Tuesday. Mr. Arnold has been doing an appreciable amount of terracing during the past two years. This is an area of the county where rains have been excessive in June.

He has a problem of taking the discharge of water on one of his fields coming from other fields. The program called for a wide outlet, two diversion terraces, plus the terraces on his own land. These recent rains must have been the heaviest since terracing. The agent and associate agent, Merle Vaughan, made this inspection trip to see how the system is working.

Mr. Arnold said, "Well, I don't think I have lost my soil from these heavy rains. If I have not had this field terraced the loss would have been terrific."

A little scouring occurred in spots in one of his division terraces. Few division terraces are built so well that no dirt is moved in the channel until the rough spots are corrected—as the rains will do for some time. Grass coming on in such channels will give further aid in checking this scouring.

Some Terraces High

Some think terraces that are 18 inches high are too high and that diversions are too high. This inspection showed again a necessity of terraces and diversions. Terraces being what some call "too high." There were some places where they lacked 6 inches of coming to the top. At one spot trash indicated the water has reached within an inch or less of the top.

In one diversion terrace water was slowly running. This reminds us that one of the principles of terracing is that terrace grades must be correct. Too much grade causes the water to flow rapidly and to pick up soil.

Water flowing a distance of three inches per second will just begin to pick up fine clay. If it flows six inches per second it will move fine sand. If it flows eight inches per second, coarse sand will be removed. At a rate of 12 inches or 1 foot per second fine gravel will be removed. Twice this speed will move one inch pebbles.

Hence, we can see from this, terraces must be laid off correctly and that they should be graded properly. The overall grade is important. It's usually uneconomical to build them so that the grade is approximately correct. If the overall grade in the channel is correct some irregularities will correct themselves. The terrace ridge is big enough and high enough to prevent a break.

Constant and Grade Unwise

A constant grade along the terrace is unwise, as water will pile up at the lower end just like a congestion occurs along the highway when you approach a city during heavy traffic hours. This is especially true if the slow drivers are near the city and the fast farther away and they all start approximately at the same time.

The most economical job is done by giving a little more grade at the outlet end of the terrace. The middle section, the upper end should have less grade than the central section. This permits the water coming from that part of the field at the outlet end of the terrace to move out before the water at the upper end gets at this place. If this is not done the terrace ridge must be higher to take care of this large concentration of water.

If your terraces overlap, check and see if your grade is about two inches per 100 feet at the upper end, three inches per 100 feet in the middle section and four inches per 100 feet at the outlet end. An excellent job of surveying does not insure a good terrace. The operator may cut corners, get off the stake line, or straighten out the terrace. If he does any of these and does not check the job with the level that is properly adjusted the terraces may be unsatisfactory.

Recently the extension agent saw a farm level that has been used that was so far out of adjustment if used in terracing system. Some of these are properly graded outlets, wide enough to handle the water from that specific water shed, outlets at the outer edge of the farm with the minimum number of structures and a good cropping system.

Balanced Farming Tour July 17

A Balanced Farming Tour is being planned over Pettis county for all day Tuesday July 17th. Some where between six and ten stops will be made.

At these stops will be seen Grade A dairy buildings, remodeled permanent pastures, remodeled kitchens, new poultry setups, terraces, terrace outlets and structures.

Two Extension Specialists from the University of Missouri College of Agriculture at Columbia will assist. They are, Miss Alice Mae Alexander, former Pettis county home agent who is now one of the Home Management Specialists and Clarence Klingner, who is an Extension Economist.

All plans for the tour are not yet complete. More information will be available next week.

A pressure canner is recommended by University nutritionists for canning all vegetables except tomatoes. Fruits, berries, and tomatoes can be canned by the water bath method.

If you would rather can all your vegetables by the water bath method, multiply the number of minutes given for canning with the pressure canner by four where the time listed is less than one hour.

Demand Strong For Fertilizer

Robert W. Rissler, chairman of the Pettis County Agricultural Mobilization Committee, said today that one of the reasons for fertilizer shortages is the distribution system governed by the manner in which farmers ordinarily buy fertilizer.

A recent survey of fertilizer producers indicates that approximately 35 per cent of the fertilizer purchased by farmers in the county is purchased in the months of March and September, Rissler said, as compared to only five per cent purchased in the months of June and July. This survey indicates that farmers continue to purchase fertilizer only in the spring and fall, thereby limiting supplies and forcing them in numerous cases to use grades not specifically needed. This practice also tends to keep prices higher.

Producers of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash try to schedule their operations on a year around basis. This is necessary because of union labor contracts, allocations of materials to mixing plants, etc. Therefore, each plant's production capacity is limited by its warehouse space during these off season periods.

In view of the above and in view of the fact that the demand for fertilizer exceeds the supply, Rissler said that the only answer at this time seems to be for farmers to buy fertilizer on a year around basis, obtaining such saving as they can by providing their own warehouse space. More important, however, is the fact that by taking delivery in the off seasons, farmers will be in a much better position to get the analysis fertilizer which they need and plan to use.

India's great Bengal famine of 1943 caused 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 deaths, directly by malnutrition and indirectly by diseases.

Pointers Given Choosing Peaches

Popular as peaches are, many a food shopper does not know them well enough to do an expert job of buying. With the peach season coming up, here are some pointers for those not sure of themselves as grocery store peach pickers.

Choose mature peaches, which have a creamy or yellowish ground color. This is more important to look for than the prettily bluish which some well-flavored varieties never have at all. Avoid peaches with dark green ground color, for these are immature and will not ripen satisfactorily.

The firm-textured clingstone peaches are grown mainly for commercial canning and are also well suited to home picking. The freestone varieties are favorites for table use and also for home canning because of fine flavor, even though they do not hold shape so well.

Yellow-fleshed peaches offer a bonus of somewhat more vitamin A value than the white-fleshed kinds. But generally speaking, you can expect a half-cup of sliced raw peaches to provide about 15 percent of the vitamin A and about 10 percent of the vitamin C recommended daily for an adult.

If scales aren't handy, figure on about 4 medium-sized peaches to a pound. A pound will make 4 servings.

A bushel basket of peaches will yield 18 to 24 quarts of canned peaches, or 36 to 48 pints of frozen.

Farm Bureau Membership Meet

The Pettis County Farm Bureau Membership and Maintenance Committee held an important meeting at the Farm Bureau office, 118 West Third St., Wednesday night, June 27th. Wm. P. McCune, chairman, was in charge. Other members present were C. S. Arnold, president; C. A. Staples,

Additional Plans For the Calf Sale

Big Event For Feeders to be Held September 22

Plans are progressing for the feeder calf sale to be held in the Sedalia community, September 22. At a meeting of the Board of Directors held June 21 at the Extension office steps were taken toward working out some of the many necessary details. The articles of incorporation and by-laws of the organization were decided upon.

The board believes the sale will be of value to sellers and buyers and that it will improve the quality of beef cattle produced in this area.

The Extension Service in various counties in the past 10 years has cooperated with cattle producers in establishing their own feeder calf sales where their cattle are sold in uniform lots. In the sales the calves are sorted under the supervision of the Missouri Agricultural Extension Service into lots that are uniform as to breed, sex, type, quality, and condition then sold at auction by the pound. While known as calf sales most of these auctions have a few yearlings, with a few sales in the sales the calves are sorted under the supervision of the Missouri Agricultural Extension Service into lots that are uniform as to breed, sex, type, quality, and condition then sold at auction by the pound.

The Extension Service has been interested in feeder calf sales principally from an educational viewpoint. They have provided a forceful demonstration and an effective tool in beef cattle improvement work. They have shown in dollars and cents that good breeding and management pay off and that livestock pasture farming is profitable for producers. All who attend the sale can see a comparison of returns from good cattle and cattle of lower quality. In the areas where sales have been held for successive years, a definite improvement is observed in type and quality of cattle offered.

Sell at Market Value

From the producers standpoint, the sales have given them a market where they are able to sell their cattle at market value. With these sales it is not possible for the small producer to get full value for his calves offered in lots of mixed sex, varying in size, type, and quality. Many of such calves were sold to itinerant buyers, from $1.00 to $3.00 per cent less than similar calves on the market. In the 1950 sales the consignments averaged less than 10 head from each farmer, indicating the need for producers to get their cattle together in order to have sizeable lots of uniform cattle to offer prospective buyers.

Feeder calf sales fill a definite need, as shown by the increase in numbers sold from one sale in 1941 handling 426 calves from 80 farmers, to 19 sales in 1950 in which 18,142 head were consigned by 1,870 producers.

Buyers have found the sales an excellent source of feeder cattle, and previous buyers come back to buy again. They like the opportunity to buy uniform lots of cattle fresh from the farm. The farm-grown cattle offered in these sales can be in most buyers feed lots within 24 to 36 hours after they come out of their home pastures. They are not subjected to extreme shrink and fill.

Those wishing to consign cattle to the sale may do so through any member of the board of directors who are E. W. Thompson, Tom Ream, Pierre Lamy, Dick Monsees, C. S. Arnold and John M. Sneed, Jr.

This board is planning for adequate pens, sales pavilion and other necessary equipment for holding a successful sale.

Robert Campbell and W. J. Ficken and H. L. Pack.

The purpose of the meeting was to formulate plans for the membership campaign in the early fall and to select township captains.

Mr. Dave Keller, district fieldman for the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, assisted in plans and announced there would be a district meeting at Clinton August 29th starting at 10:30 a. m. to recognize all township captains.

Notes On Balanced Farming

Merle Vaughn

We are hoping for a good turnout for the Balanced Farming Tour Tuesday July 17th. Two College Specialists will assist. They are Miss Alice Mae Alexander and Clarence Klingner, Extension Economist. Further information may be found in this issue of the paper and more will be given next week.

Mr. Coplen and I stopped by Harold Schanz recently to see the concrete tank built there as a demonstration the first week in June. Harold had the valve installed and the tank was full of water and in use. Mr. Schanz has used the same forms to build a second tank at another pond on the farm since the demonstration.

Both these tanks are to be insulated so they can be used in the winter without freezing. A demonstration where the insulation job will be done will be held at Mr. Schanz on July 24 and 25. The meeting will be the afternoon of the 25th.

William J. (Bill) Lamm had a terracing contractor build a second tube structure for him after one was put in as a demonstration on his farm the second week in June. About 20 people from over the county attended the meeting.

A structure of concrete or metal or a combination of both is quite often needed at the end of a terrace outlet. Its purpose is to prevent a ditch being cut back up the outlet from the ditch into which it empties.

A tube structure has a particular advantage where there is quite a fall for the water from the outlet floor to the ditch bottom. The first outlet (where the demonstration was held) had an over fall of 7 feet. The second outlet had an over fall of 12 feet. Sixty feet of 15 inch culvert material was used in the latter. Arnold Fischer, local terracing contractor, did the work.

Another contractor, Ed Vaughn of Knobnoster is building outlets on the E. W. Thompson-Jesse Dowdy farm.

Riley Lee of Beaman had Jim Bahner, another local contractor build three terraces recently. These terraces were turned into an outlet that was built and seeded late last fall but on which the grass did not come up till spring.

Mr. Bahner has also been working at George Traders filling a ditch below his new pond so one of the new concrete tanks can be installed.

I had the opportunity yesterday of seeing a good terrace outlet at Charles Arnolds that had really been "strutting its stuff." It has been carrying the water from at least 60 acres of drainage on neighboring farms as well as 20 acres of the farm's own water.

The timothy is standing about 2 feet high on the outlet. However Mr. Arnold said on a recent morning that the water was running nearly a foot deep clear across the 60 foot outlet. At that time he stated the current was so strong that every bit of the grass was under water. In spite of this heavy load no apparent damage was done to the outlet.

Insurance For The Wheat Crop

"Pettis county farmers are again approaching a very unfavorable wheat harvest season," states the Pettis county PMA committee, "and unless the excessive rains stop immediately much of our wheat will be lost through inability to harvest or the grain will be damaged to a considerable extent."

Wheat producers who are insured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation should keep in mind the necessity to report to the Pettis county PMA office production of less than the coverage as insured under their contract. Such a report must be made within 15 days after harvest or before any disposition of grain stubble is made.

Producers who do not now have a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will do well to give some consideration to insuring their 1952 intended wheat acres. Contracts now in force with the Corporation are continuous and covers insured's interest in his share of wheat seeded in Area I of Pettis county each year. This "all-risk" insurance program operates as a county mutual insurance company with reduced premium opportunities and in addition to insuring bushels of production, it also insures the quality of wheat. Information on the FCIC wheat insurance may be obtained at the Pettis county PFA office, Sedalia.

During World War II the U. S. Navy was able to reduce by one-half the amount of rubber required by combat vessels.

SIDE DELIVERY RAKE

Get All the Hay...WITHOUT TANGLING, ROPING OR TWISTING

The MM Side Delivery Rake handles the hay carefully and turns the stems outward so they dry quickly. Leaves are thus protected against drying too quickly. The rake cylinder has self-adjusting action front and rear so that the teeth and spiral cylinder follow the contour of the ground... gets all the crop. Uniformly smooth action of the cylinder on the MM Side Delivery Rake helps prevent tangling, roping or twisting... gently deposits the hay in a loose, fluffy windrow for more uniform curing!

BUILT TO DO THE JOB AT LOWER COST... LONGER!

Heavy tempered steel teeth are quickly detachable in pairs. Spring coils give added strength to the teeth. The high main arch provides ample clearance for heavy raking jobs. The strippers are aligned so prevent hay from winding or bunching in the cylinder. This rake will carefully handle any crop.

Communist Plan For Burma

RAYGON—(P)—Foreign properties will be nationalized under a Communist-planned Burma of the People's Democratic Front, according to a party manifesto issued here.

The People's Democratic Front is composed of the Communist-minded Burma Workers and Peasants' Party and the Burma Trades Union Congress. It is led by the former Labor Minister Thakin Lwin.

The manifesto says further that people's councils will rule the army, the police and of course the people. Since the present government suspended its own nationalization program for want of capital, the Front presumably would appropriate without compensation.

Envoy's Brief-Case Stolen

ADDIS ABABA—(P)—Ethiopian Airlines and civil aviation officials are investigating into the disappearance of "important papers" from the brief-case of Dr. Eduardo Anze Matienzo, of Bolivia, UN Commissioner for Eritrea. Senor Matienzo visited Addis Ababa briefly, late in May. After landing at Addis Ababa Airport, he found he had inadvertently left his brief-case in the plane.

Airport officials searched the airliner but failed to find the brief case. It was later returned to Dr. Matienzo in what officials reported to have been a "round-about way." But, officials said, all the papers were missing.

Out Our Way

By J. R. Williams

Stork Travels By Air

VANCOUVER—(P)—Seventeen months ago, St. Paul's hospital here instituted a "flying incubator" service to carry on for storks with a faulty time sense. Until that time, babies born prematurely in remote regions of the province had little chance of survival. Incubators, oxygen supplies, skilled hospital personnel were all at least 24 hours away.

Since then, a total of 40 babies have been rushed in the incubator by ambulance or airplane from points in the interior to the ultra-modern clinic at St. Paul's. Teams of special nurses are available day and night to go to the air of the babies and bring them back to the clinic.

Missouri River Overflows at Boonville

The flooded Missouri river leaves its channel (top) and flows over farm land and U. S. highway 40 at Boonville, Mo., June 30. Levees were cut through at several points along the river. The Kansas river, which joins the Missouri at Kansas City, dumped heavy flood waters into the Missouri for a week sending the "Big Muddy" on a rampage through the state of Missouri. ## Crime Career is Ended by Bullet

FLEMINGTON, N. J., July 2—(P)—Meek-looking Warren Lee Irwin ended his bloody career of murder, kidnap and rape by firing a bullet into his brain in a rain-drenched clump of poison ivy.

The target of New Jersey's greatest manhunt was found yesterday—sprawled on his back, a trickle of blood still oozing from a .38 caliber bullet hole in his left temple.

The body of the 27-year-old desperado lay about one-quarter of a mile from where he abandoned 17-year-old Carolyn Barker, his last captive, and plunged into the woods to escape capture Saturday.

State police and FBI agents said Irwin definitely killed himself, thus carrying out his grim vow that he'd never be taken alive.

The comely high school girl, kidnaped by Irwin in Washington Thursday night and ravished six times during her 41 hours of captivity, was not told of his suicide. She was taken back to a Washington hospital Saturday night for rest and treatment.

Police say Irwin apparently cowered in the bushes hoping to be able to hitch a ride on heavily-traveled route 29, about 150 feet away.

But, they figure the gun-crazy fugitive decided killing himself was the best way out after seeing the scores of searchers beating the bush for him. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Pvt. Berry in Defense Program

HAMILTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., July 2—Pfc. William T. Berry of Sedalia, Mo., took part in a nationwide air defense exercise June 22-24.

Pfc. Berry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Berry, 812 West 4th. He enlisted in the USAF July 24, 1950, and is assigned to the 668th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron, Sacramento, Calif. He is working as a security guard.

The 668th AC&W Squadron is a unit of the Western Air Defense Command, which directed the June training exercises. The training emphasized the importance of the Civilian Ground Observer corps in the nation's air defense system. For the first time in the present emergency these volunteer workers—serving without pay—maned their observer posts and filter centers around the clock.

An old Indian fish trap, consisting of 65,000 stakes and with a two-acre spread was uncovered in a Boston excavation.

Flood Invades Main Street

This is Poyntz street, the main business thoroughfare of Manhattan, Kas., as the flood waters from the Kansas and Blue rivers lap at the sidewalks, June 29. Many store fronts were sand-bagged as the city experienced its worst flood of the year. (Associated Press photo)

Missouri Sweeps Over Wrecked Boat

The flooded Missouri river sweeps over all but the pilot house and stacks of the wrecked towboat Minnesota as it lies near the south bank between Sibley and Napoleon, Mo., June 30. The boat, pushing three barges, hit a pier of a railroad bridge at Sibley, June 22, and settled into the sand. (Associated Press photo)

Indicated Death From Lightning

WICHITA, Kas., July 2—(P)—The charred body of Alfred McCaskill was found in a car near Mt. Hope Saturday and belief was expressed the vehicle may have been hit by lightning.

The body, in a kneeling position in the front seat, was found by the Wichita man's brother, J. B. McCaskill. The car was on a road leading to the brother's home southeast of Mt. Hope.

Earl Nethercot, acting coroner, said McCaskill apparently died as he was reaching into the back seat for his raincoat or to quiet his dog. The animal also was dead in the automobile.

McCaskill was a lineman for the Kansas Gas & Electric company here. He formerly lived at Lee's Summit, Mo.
